WE HAVE "MILES TO GO"

Today we are in the golden pages of our journey. But the journey was not easy. We have trudged through the several rocky and undulating ways. For last fifty four years, our company has witnessed both the tough times and happy moments. Sometimes we failed. But we got up with double vigor next. We have endeared both success and failure, made stepping stones out of stumbling blocks, and resultantly, we have achieved the status of Miniratna-category-I with Schedule A Status and a pride of place in the Fortune India's list.

Our country was grappling with serious socio-economic problems, when Manganese Ore (India) Ltd. came into existence in 1962. We began our voyage through the poor levels of employment, regional imbalances in economic development and lack of trained manpower, weak industrial base and sorry state of infrastructure facilities.

Today our organization is a practical demonstration of the principle of dedication, hard work and intelligence. Our officials, from grass-root to top level, have shown their grit and determination to reach the top, to realize a dream, an ideal in the development of the nation as well as of the company. Because of their tireless efforts, MOIL has laid a strong foundation for the industrial growth of our country. Yet we cannot afford to be complacent. There remains a gigantic task of making an indelible mark in the international fora. A long way is crossed and there lies a long way ahead to be traversed.

Still we are a bunch of dissatisfied Socrates. Still we have "miles to go before we sleep".

MOIL family expresses its deep gratitude not only the present but past employees and to each individual who has put his/her diligent efforts without which we could not have enjoyed today's glory of MOIL.

SANKALP - the word is ingrained in our body, mind and heart. What is the Sankalp or pledge that we have taken? Definitely, the dream of a better, firmer, stronger and World leader in Manganese.

MOIL is not just a company, but a religion, for a vast work force. Here is a wonderful conglomeration of talents, working hard shoulder to shoulder with the governments, for the progress of the Nation. We conceive noble ideas and translate them into action.

How it was possible? There is a tidal wave of undying vigour of MOILians to stand out in the horizon. All credit goes to the MOIL employees for their dedication, for their intense intension to turn the tide of decay and degradation into enriched social environment.

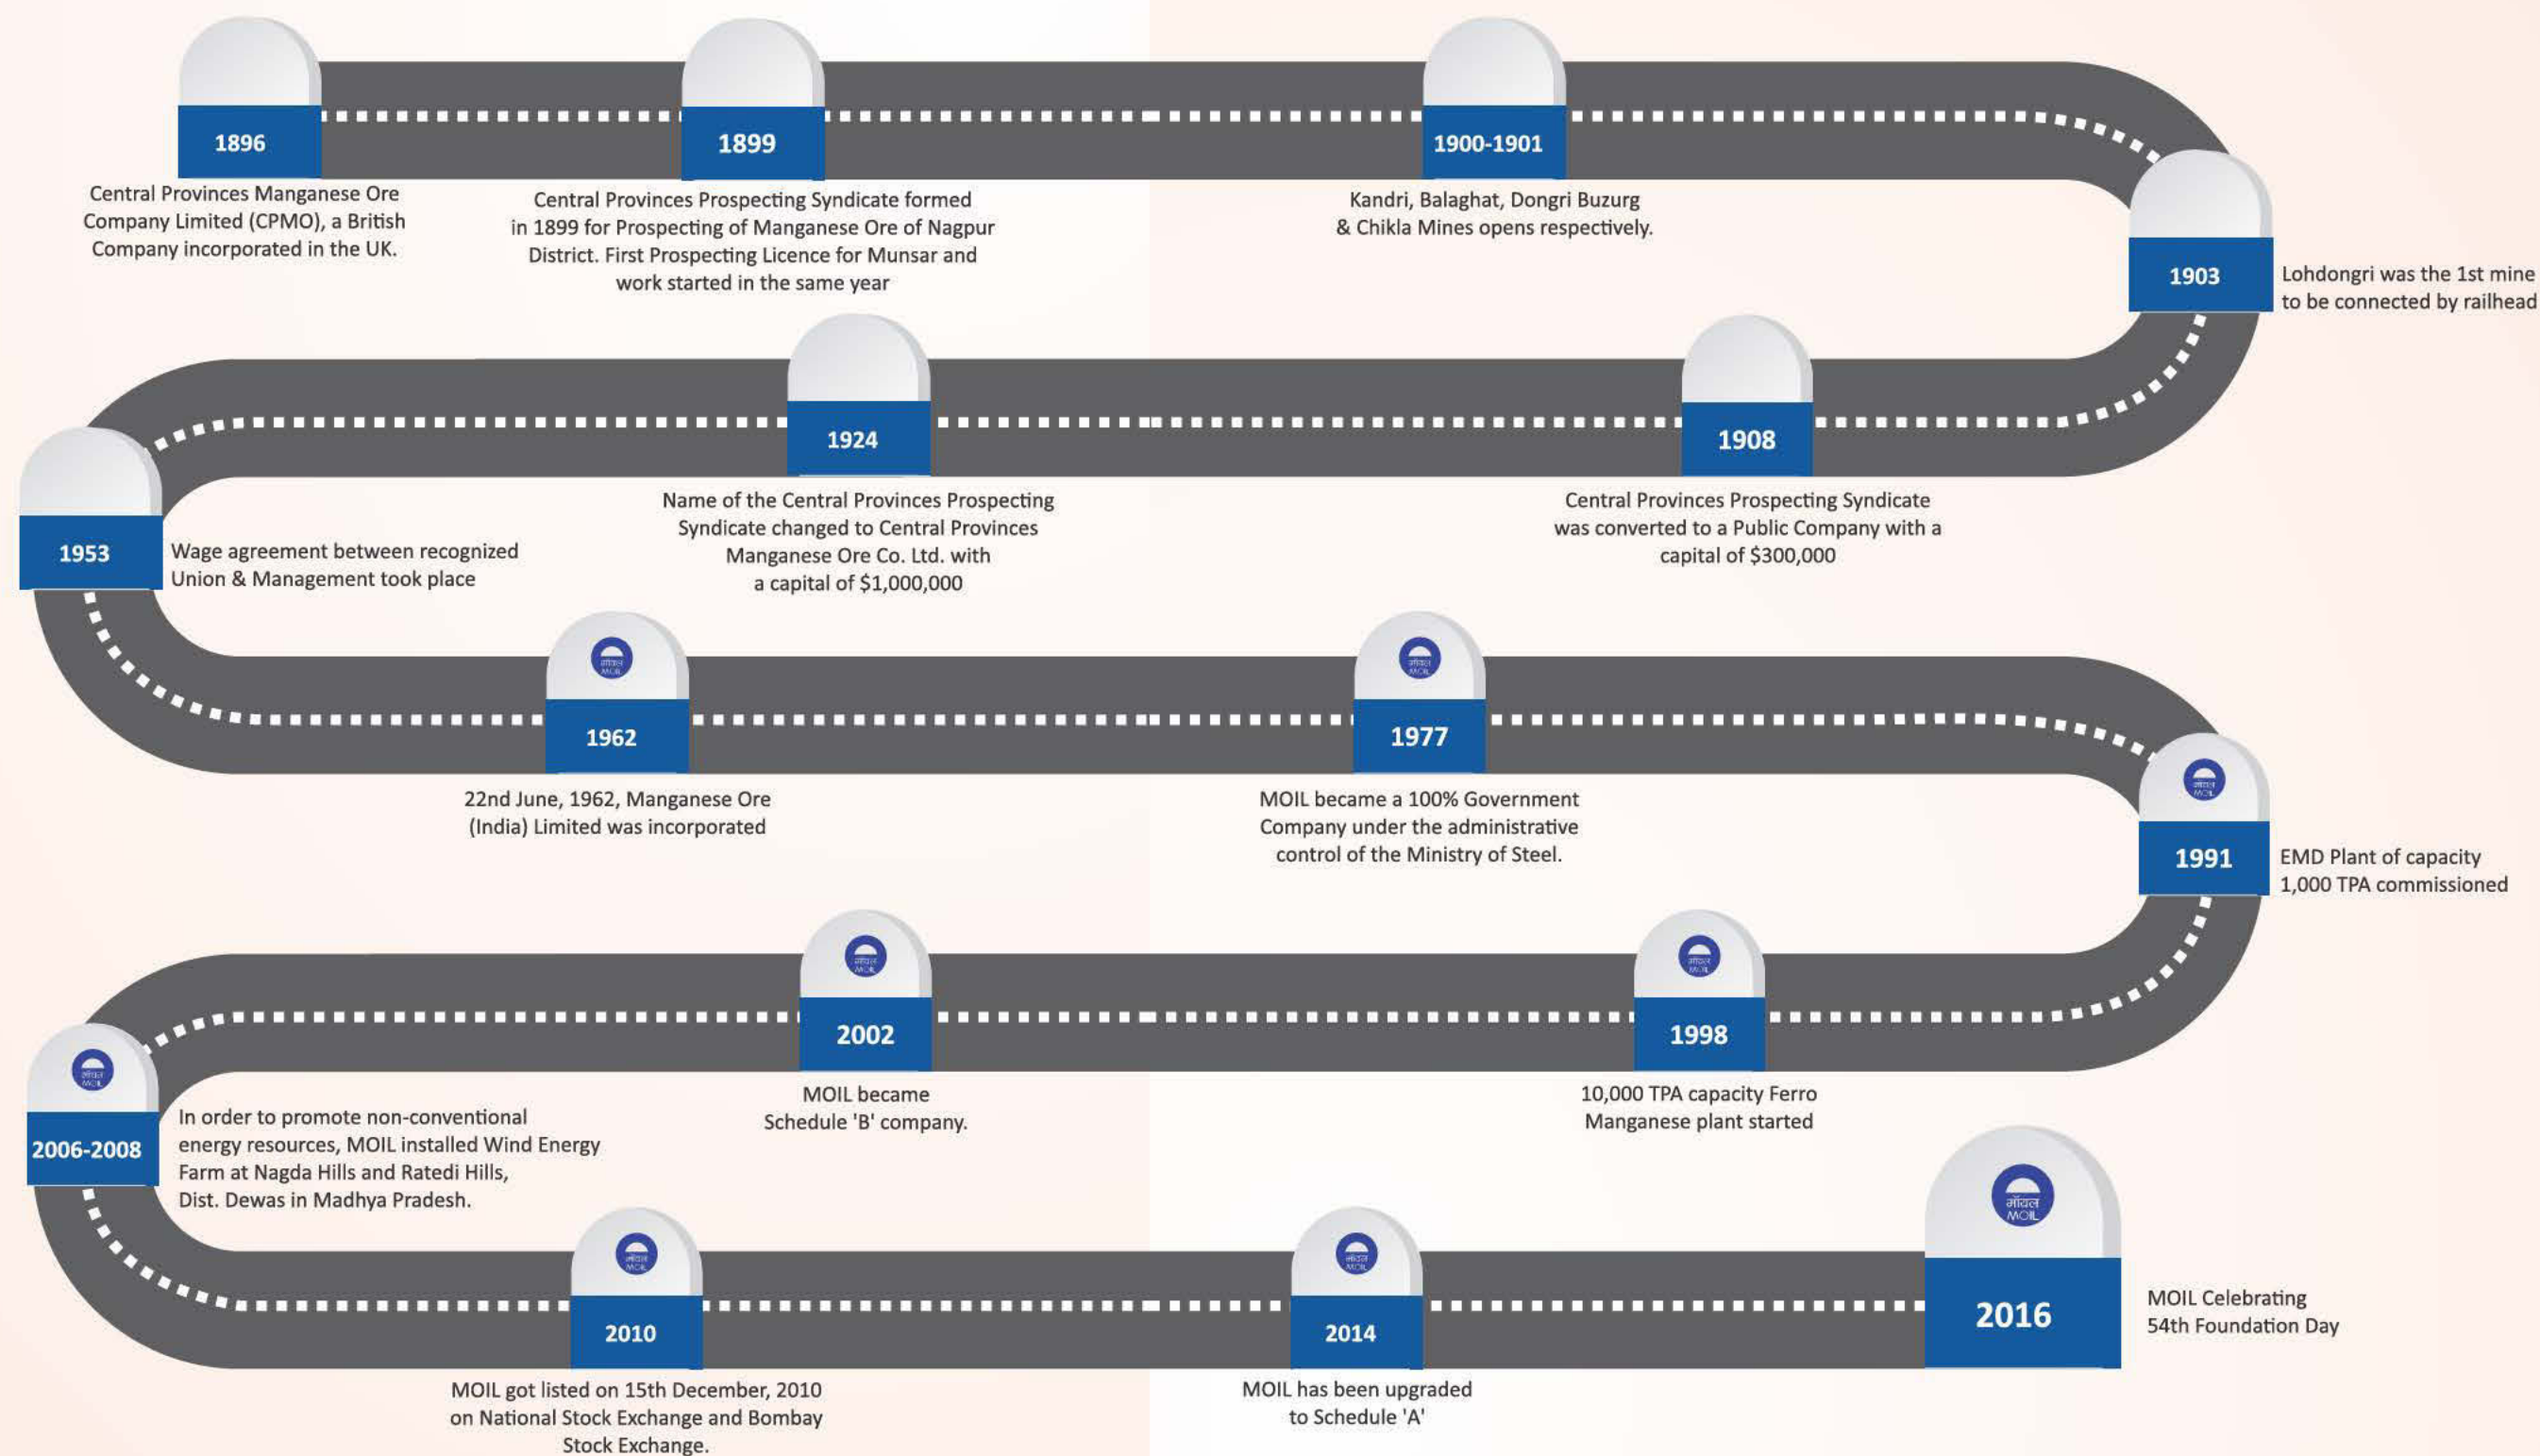

This SANKALP (magazine) is an encapsulated success story of the MOIL that has been achieved over the year since June 1962 and its future plans to conquer the untrodden areas.

Here we pledge to stride towards the goal of becoming a robust leader of Manganese to remove the darkness and to crush all ills and evils.

We sincerely acknowledge the contribution of all MOILians and their family members over the years since inception and this issue of Sankalp is dedicated to all architects of MOIL who had contributed directly or indirectly to give this present shape of the company.

JOURNEY OF SHRI G. P. KUNDARGI IN MOIL

KNOW YOUR LEADER - SHRI G. P. KUNDARGI

MOIL has been gifted with one of the great leaders whose relentless efforts have placed MOIL in Global Footprints and a little about him is inked below:

IMAGE BUILDING

It was a colossal transformation of MOIL. During the tenure of CMD Shri G P Kundargi, the company has witnessed a pride of place for itself. Relentless efforts of the company propped itself up to the Schedule A category, which was long due. This upgradation is an enviable reward for this Miniratna category-I PSU.

INFRASTRUCTURE DEVELOPMENT

To keep pace with the requirements in the market, and for the increased production, a number of mining projects were initiated. And the existing infrastructure has undergone a sea change. Some of the outcomes are new vertical shafts at Gumgaon and Munsar mines, sinking of a new vertical shaft at U kwa mines, deepening of Holmes shaft at Balaghat mine, deepening of Kandri and Chikhla mines and many more. There has been a long list of completed and undergoing projects. With these infrastructure projects commissioned and planned, a visionary Shri Kundargi, foresees the production of the company from the present 1.10 million tonnes to 2 million tonnes by 2021.

TECHNOLOGY UP-GRADATION / MECHANIZATION

The existing technology, which is to a large extent being operated manually, is being replaced by modern ones, a major boost to production and safety measures.

ASSET CREATION

A significant achievement under the dynamic leadership of Shri Kundargi was its assets creation which was not ever done since the inception of MOIL in 1896. The company could not afford to be stagnant for long. Therefore, realizing the need for expansion of the company, 1377 hectares leases (PL, ML and reservation areas) were acquired mainly in Balaghat, Nagpur and Bhandara districts. Resultantly, this will help the company for future sustainability.

PLANS FOR FUTURE GROWTH

Based on the present strength and with an aim of never ending expansion, under the guidance of Shri Kundargi, a blue print for the future plan has been prepared. The initiative, under the name 'Strategic Management Plan upto 2030 includes manganese mining, ferro alloys, mining of other minerals, technological upgradation, research and development and human resource management.

EMPLOYEE WELFARE / IMPROVEMENT IN QUALITY OF LIFE

With the deep spring of feelings for the employees, efforts are on to develop a modern township integrated with all facilities. Besides, for a quality life, old residential accommodations of the employees are being replaced by modern ones. In another welfare scheme, MOIL has started superannuation benefits for its retired and retiring employees.

SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

The company has an exceptional interest in the field of Social Responsibility. In order to carry out inclusive development of rural areas around MOIL mines, a separate trusts, namely, MOIL Foundation was set up. The Foundation is engaged in the welfare of these rural people. It takes care of livelihood, women empowerment, water resource management, agricultural training, livestock development training, quality of life, support to destitute, education, anganwadi, health, cleanliness and sanitation etc.

With such pragmatic efforts, there seems to be a sudden deluge of enthusiasm in the vast work force. The tenure of Hon'ble Shri Kundargi is exemplary. A 'karmayogi' by nature, he made us feel the heart-beats of the company every moment.

HOW A LEADER GUIDES

Shri Dipankar Shome
Executive Director
(Technical)

A couple of months back I had been to Lonavala, the hill station near Pune to attend a seminar on organizational effectiveness. 'The Jewel of Sahyadri' became more vibrant with the august presence of the Chief Guest none other than Padmabhusan Dr. Sivathanu Pillai, a distinguished scientist of our country and CEO of BrahMos Aerospace.

As such, the conference was very interesting and educative as it was bejewelled with CEOs and renowned academicians of our country. All lectures were interesting but the address of Dr. Pillai was exceptional. He delivered his substantial speech with utter simplicity.

He shared his many valuable experiences in lucid way. While defining leadership, he uttered the golden mantra with beautiful example that a leader must take all failures on his shoulder and share the credit with others. While telling such, he took us to early eighties when the Rohini Satellite was placed in the orbit and that placed India in the community of space-faring nations.

But the launching phenomenon of Rohini was not that simple. He revived our memories with the facts when SLV-3 was launched in 1979 carrying Rohini satellite in the low earth orbit. But the mission could not be accomplished. However, it was successfully launched in second occasion during 1980.

That indigenous mission was headed by our former President Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam as Project Director on both the occasions. After the failure in 1979, when the press started asking the reason of such debacle, Prof. Satish Dhawan, the then Chairman of ISRO took the mike from Dr. Kalam and answered all questions confidently and composedly and took all responsibilities of failure on his shoulder. He showed his confidence to his team and promised the Nation of successful launching within a year. With tireless effort, the team successfully launched the satellite in 1980. During press conference, Prof. Dhawan handed over the mike this time to his project Director Dr. Kalam to share the news of success to the nation.

In the words of Dr. Kalam, "that day I learnt how a leader guides his team, taking the blame when faced with failure and sharing the praise in the event of success". I would like to share one incident that happened in mid nineties while I was working in Odisha. In those days, our company was going through severe financial crisis. CMD came from Calcutta and instructed to curtail all expenditure including in developmental works. While addressing such in front of all HoDs, one senior officer suddenly commented, "stopping of development in mines is just like a suicidal attempt".

As such, CMD was very serious person and this comment made him much grave. He did not talk much after that and left for Directors Bungalow. We all thought that the poor fellow will be called for and he has to face music for his 'daring' comments. That happened exactly. In the afternoon, the unit head took that officer with him to meet CMD. CMD initially banded him for his comments but finally appreciated him for his daring but genuine comment. He asked the head of the unit to recommend for one special increment for him and made him in-charge of all development activities. He allowed all expenditure in development works but asked to avoid all wasteful expenditure in other areas.

He was a silent leader. He could realize his mistake and took immediate corrective actions. He accepted his criticism and acted in his own style. Under his dynamic leadership, company quickly came out from the crisis and started making profits. That energetic leader is no more today but all employees still appreciate his vision and leadership. Indeed, role of a leader in any organization is extremely important. Be it social, political or any office of profit, role of a leader is vital. Real leader must know to manage the failure. Unfortunately, in and around us, such leaders are now scarce item. Most of them remain busy in passing the buck.

The leader has to gain confidence from his team members and to protect them from all thunder and rain then only he will get hundred percent from them.

Perhaps, that is why wise says that the key to success lies in influencing people and not in exercising authority, and ability of a leader could be judged properly when the organization passes through innumerable hurdles, obviously not in a fair weather when environment is conducive.
